Magic “Shenanigans” at Stars and Strikes in Dallas

Dallas, GA, December 8, 2008 – Professional magician and New Hope resident Joe M. Turner brings his one-man parlor magic show, Shenanigans, to Stars and Strikes in Dallas on Saturday, December 20 with performances at 7:00 PM and 9:00 PM. All tickets are $10 available in advance from Stars and Strikes or at the door.

During a previous two-year run at the Grand Hyatt Atlanta in Buckhead, Shenanigans was cited as one of former Atlanta mayor Sam Massell’s top entertainment picks in an Atlanta Business Chronicle article.

Turner, recently seen performing his magic on both “Good Morning America” and “Nightline,” is no stranger to local audiences due to his two well-received shows at the Dallas Theater. Based in Paulding County, Turner is a popular entertainer and speaker at corporate and private events across America. He has also performed for church groups and charitable organizations in the United States, Canada and Europe.

Turner’s combination sophisticated sleight-of-hand, astonishing mind-reading, and easygoing humor has made him a repeat performer at top entertainment venues in Hollywood, Atlantic City, and New York City. He was also featured in a CNN Headline News segment focusing on his application of magic to corporate meetings and marketing initiatives.

For additional information about the show, contact Joe M. Turner at 404.644.6791. For advance tickets, contact Stars and Strikes at 678.965.5707.
